

THE STOMACH IS THE MIRROR OF HUMAN INTELLECT

The brain rules the body, but the stomach rules the brain. If the stomach is not digesting properly the brain is thrown out of balance, and the thoughts it creates are not healthy ones.

As alcohol fumes rising from the stomach will befuddle the brain, so will the poisonous gases rising from the undigested food lying decaying in the stomach cause the brain to become unbalanced.

In this way certain crimes can even be traced to a weak stomach.

Cooper's New Discovery, which is on sale at all drug stores, brightens the brain by clearing up the stomach so that it can perform its functions as Nature always intended.

It is a purifying and vitalizing agent which first corrects local disorders of the stomach and then tones up the entire system so that a thoroughly healthy nervous condition is the result.

It makes rich, red blood, which courses through the brain, giving it strength and ridding away all headaches on its trail.

TELLS OF HER RISE FROM HOUSEKEEPER TO ECKERT WEALTH

Gen. Eckert's Daughter-in-Law Testifies for Defense in Fight Over His Fortune.

WAS HIS WIFE'S MAID.

Says She Ate With Family Before Her Marriage to Thomas T. Eckert Jr.

How a little up-State girl, orphaned at fourteen and thrown upon her own resources, fought her way through life and at length became the wife of a millionaire, was told in Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum's court today. The justice was that of Mrs. Thomas T. Eckert Jr., daughter-in-law of the late Gen. Thomas T. Eckert, who was president of the Western Union Telegraph

Company and over whose millions there is now being waged a bitter legal war. Mrs. Eckert, as Minnie Egan, housekeeper, was a prominent figure in the Eckert household and is credited by the relatives, who are contesting her will with existing great influence over the stand by counsel for the defendant, Dr. Lancey Nicoll. She was dressed entirely in black and maintained on the stand a passive demeanor that well became her garments. Her answers were given in a voice pitched so low that the Court and lawyers were constantly compelled to admonish her to speak so the jury might hear.

On direct examination she said she was born in Troy and there she attended school until the death of her mother, when she was fourteen years old. From the time she was sixteen until she married Eckert Jr. she worked continuously in hotels. She came to New York in 1887, she testified, successively finding employment in the Windsor Hotel, the Waldorf and the Marlborough. She became a parlourmaid of St. Patrick's Cathedral, and through her activities in church societies met Gen. Eckert's wife. She became Mrs. Eckert's maid and at her death the General made Miss Egan his housekeeper. She related in detail her duties in the Eckert town and country homes and then told of her position in the family.

"Where did you eat in the Eckert home?" asked Mr. Nicoll. "At Elberon (the Eckert country place) I could not eat with the servants, whom I superintended, and Mrs. Eckert said she could not find a place for me at the family table. Finally, she said she could make me comfortable in the inner parlor and for several years I ate by myself there," said the witness. "In the New York house, where did you eat?" "For a time, in the fifth avenue home, I ate in the front parlor," replied Mrs. Eckert. "When the family moved to Eighty-sixth street, I ate with the family practically all the time." "Did Gen. Eckert ever eat with you?" "Both Gen. Eckert and his son, Thomas Jr., very often ate with me in the breakfast room."

Mrs. Eckert, under questioning, then told the life history of the famous cat, of which Gen. Eckert and other members of the family were extremely fond. She said she too liked the cat very much.

Previous to Mrs. Eckert taking the stand the Rev. Joseph McMahon, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, was a witness for the defense. He was intimate with both General and Mrs. Eckert, as well as Minnie Egan. On cross-examination an effort was made to gain the admission that he secured the entry of Miss Egan into the Eckert household. He denied this. His testimony was principally that in his opinion Gen. Eckert was of sound mentality.

See for $15,000 Fee.

John W. Griggs, former Attorney General of the United States and ex-Governor of New Jersey, today filed in the Supreme Court an action to recover $15,000 from the Motion Picture National Packing Company, Ltd., incorporated under the laws of Maine. The money, according to the complaint, represents Mr. Griggs' fee as counsel in the reorganization of the corporation between Feb. 13, 1906, and Sept. 1, 1912.

YOUNG "WHITE SLAVER" GETS SEVERE SENTENCE.

Court Tells Grandon, Whose Victims Were Children, That He Deserves Death Penalty.

Judge O'Sullivan, in the Court of General Sessions, today told George A. Grandon, twenty-one years old, of No. 224 West One Hundred and Twenty-second street, that he was unfit to live and deserved death more than any cold blooded murderer. Brandon pleaded guilty to a charge of abduction. Agents of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children told the Court that Brandon had grown rich on money made for him by women, whom he maintained in an apartment at No. 16 West One Hundred and First street. The society's investigations showed that Brandon harbored three grown immoral women in his room and was constantly seeking new victims. Two girls, one twelve, the other fourteen years old, were taken by him to the rooms he and the women occupied.

Brandon was sentenced to Sing Sing for not less than four years or more than seven years and six months. Judge O'Sullivan, in imposing sentence, declared that the case was one of the worst form of white slavery that had ever come to the attention of the Court.

BOY SCOUTS GATHER AT SPORTSMEN'S SHOW.

Five Hundred of Them Give Exhibition of Their Various Activities.

The Boy Scouts of America have a conspicuous part in the Sportsmen's Show in Madison Square Garden. More than five hundred boys will gather in the Garden to-morrow under the command of A. R. Forbush, Deputy Field Scout Commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America. The boys will give demonstrations of various Scout activities such as life saving, first aid, signalling, wall scaling and lighting fires without matches. Boy Scout wireless operators are one feature of the show. There are two aeroplanes in the Garden which are attached to ropes so they can be swung into the air. The aeroplanes are equipped with a wireless apparatus. Scout Commissioner Forbush has furnished Boy Scout wireless operators who go up in the aeroplane and send down messages to another Boy Scout operator on the floor. This exhibition is given every afternoon and evening.

Among the troops of Boy Scouts who are attending the Boy Scout demonstration are those in charge of M. L. O'Brien, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Dr. E. F. Stewart, Ozone Park, N. Y.; Frank F. Gray, Montclair, N. J.; W. J. Van Cott, West New Britain, Staten Island; H. G. Plummer, Rutherford, N. J.; C. K. Willyoung, Mount Vernon, N. Y.; and George W. Miller, Samuel, N. Y.

Then She Said "Parcel." (From the Boston Transcript.) Wife (to hubby, who is leaving home)—Henry, I wish you'd send this package by parcels post for me. Hub—Certainly. Is there anything you want me to bring home from the meat store or the fish market?
